

Dwight Allen McElree

October 13, 1946 - August 1, 2015

A much-loved husband, Dad, and Papa, Dwight Allen McElree, 68, of Richland Center, Wisconsin, died unexpectedly on Saturday, August 1, 2015, at Meriter Hospital in Madison, Wisconsin, with his family by his side.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held on Saturday, August 8, 2015 at 3pm at St. Mary of the Assumption Catholic Church in Richland Center, Wisconsin.

Friends and family are invited after mass to the Clary Memorial Funeral Home reception area for a time of gathering and meal.

Dwight was born to Harry and Frances McElree on October 13, 1946, in Oelwein, Iowa.

Dwight lived faithfully to his values, teaching others by living by example. His faith and devotion guided him through life as he completed his Masters of Divinity at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa, and began his doctoral work on Theology at the University of Iowa. He pursued a life of helping others as an ordained minister, devoting his pastoral services to churches in North Dakota and Iowa. Dwight then moved into financial planning, guiding the financial security for his clients for 33 years as an investment representative, most recently with Investment Centers of America at Richland County Bank. Dwight embraced his family with unwavering love and devotion. Holding hands until death do us part, Dwight and Connie (Hawks) McElree met while in college in Dubuque, Iowa and married months later, on December 18, 1971: a true love story of 44 years. Dwight and Connie raised three children, Tracey, Emily, and Joel, with a loving and guiding hand. As always a priority to Dwight, he brought out the beauty and gratitude in the word, family. As the family grew with five grandchildren, Dwight filled the family with laughter and happiness. Dwight approached life as a daily blessing and brought laughter and fun to all he touched. From his infamous 1st base splits to the sweat that he left on the racquetball court to the coin flip for the cup of coffee to the intense theology discussions to the baseball coaching with his grandkids and his passion as an Iowa Hawkeye fan. His smiles, his advice, his nicknames, his hugs, his pats on the back, and his jokes have left an imprint that will stay with us forever. Living by example, he has taught us all to love.

Dwight is survived by his wife, Connie (Hawks) McElree; his children, Tracey Jeanne McElree, Emily Kate Willoughby (Jason), and Joel David McElree (Laura); his grandchildren, Anabelle Rose Willoughby, Tyler Allen Willoughby, Thomas Anthony Krueger, Lydia Faith Willoughby, and Josephine Ann McElree; and his sisters, Wanda White (Bob) and Beverly Newton (Tim). Recognizing the incredible joy he felt for life, long live the beauty that comes down and through and onto all of us. How wonderful life was while you were in the world.

“ It has been a year since Dwight's death but i just received word of it through a Wartburg mailing. I entered WTS the summer of 1971 for Greek and met Dwight and his friend Larry. It was a new experience for me coming from Texas. I didn't know Dwight that well but we lived in the same dorm that first year. It is with sadness that I now know of his death at such a young age. Even though the is late I do offer my sympathy to the family. His death touches us all. gary kleypas

“ Dwight was always fun to visit with, especially when it came to either football or cars, Mustangs. Never could talk him out of wanting everything with a stick shift but I guess with legs and arms as long as his he never had any trouble reaching the pedals. Ha. He will be missed by many. Heck of a guy. To many good men and women leaving us way to soon. Make sure he takes his pipe with him on his journey upstairs.

“ Connie and family,

I was shocked to hear that Dwight passed away on Saturday. He was always good for a laugh and I enjoyed the times that we were able to sit across from each other at District Christmas parties. I will miss seeing him at the back door of the Richland County Bank taking a break and waving as I went through the drive-thru teller. Please know that you are all in Sherri and my thoughts and prayers.
