“ Dear Harmonie,
Down here on earth right now for me is very hard, and you can see me crying a lot over me missing you. I miss you a lot. I miss your smile, I miss your texting saying that you were proud of me and that you loved me. I miss you being happy most of all. You were not alone. I wish you didn't go, but you wanted to go home. It's sad to know that I won't be able to read messages from you anymore saying that you loved me and that you were proud of me. I need to realize that you are now gone. Not here anymore hurts. Badly. You were an amazing friend and you saved my life Harmonie. You saved me. You helped me get out of depression. I love you Harmonie Kay. I really do. You weren't alone and I wish you knew that instead of leaving. You are now safe up in heaven with Mason. At least I know your safe. I hope you are having a good time up there babes. I hope you are. I love you and miss you tons babe. I hope your having fun and your not in pain anymore.

We will never forget the beautiful light that she brought to this world. While her time here on earth was too short, her light lives on in all the hearts that she touched.

“ I remember when I was at my lowest Harmonie was there for me. Constantly checking in and giving advise. She is the reason I realized I needed to get help, so I did just that. She is the reason I am alive today and I am so grateful for her. Even when she was at her lowest she still helped others, she was always so bright no matter what and brought light to every room and person. She truly did touch the people she meet. Another very prominent thing about her is that she loved the sun set and run rise (the pic is one she took of the sun set). Love you forever harmonie, Rest In Peace bb.

“ I remember we were in choir class and I needed advice with a boy, and instead of giving me advice with that she basically told me you don't need no man. I remember that she was absolutely right and he wasn't worth my time. She also was always friendly to me, she was never negative, always patient.. She taught me so much.. Rest In Piece Harmonie..

“ our relationship was unexplainable. we always found our way back to each other, and never held a grudge against each other. i still remember tipping the four wheeler with you and fting boys all night in my closet. or even when we cleaned my entire closet and you took the xs small training bra and called it good. besides all the goofy memories. i think the imperfect moments are what i love the most. the way you could only fall asleep with your hand on my shoulder, the way you giggled when i'd say a certain word, and the way you always spelled goodnight wrong when we went to bed. i'll never forget you harmonie kay. forever and always in my heart. my angel <3

Don't let the "if only" thoughts haunt you Madison. She could not be reached as her pain was too deep. No one is to blame and doing more probably wouldn't have changed the outcome. Living your best life now is the greatest gift you can give to your friend.
